Enclosed herewith for the Bureau are six copies of a LHM concerning a public OAAU meeting held in NYC on 1/17/65, and which was conducted by MALCOLM X, who showed movies on his 1964 tour of Africa.

b7D
b7C

The sources are [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] (protect on request) who furnished the information to S. [REDACTED]

The LHM is not classified "Confidential" since it concerns an open public meeting.

For the information of the Bureau, the NYO feels that these regular routine Sunday night meetings of the OAAU, which are open to the public are of not sufficient pertinence to warrant a regular weekly airtel and LHM. Consequently, unless the public meeting itself is other than routine, or some remarks are made or event transpires that is pertinent, the NYO will not submit a LHM on each meeting, UACB.

b7D

The NYO will, of course, continue to cover these public meetings through [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] and they will be reported on in the regular organizational report.

Internal Security - Miscellaneous

Characterizations of the Organization of Afro-American Unity (OAAU), Muslim Mosque, Incorporated (MMI) and the Nation of Islam (NOI) are attached hereto and all sources therein have furnished reliable information in the past.

On January 18, 1965, two confidential sources, who have both furnished reliable information in the past, furnished the following information:

On January 17, 1965, from 8:30 PM to 10:30 PM, the OAAU held a public meeting at the Audubon Ballroom, Broadway and 166th Street, New York City. Approximately 175 persons were in attendance.

The meeting was opened and conducted by Malcolm X Little, Chairman of the OAAU and leader of the MMI. The entire program consisted of movies on Nigeria and the United Arab Republic, which had been taken by Malcolm X during his four month tour of Africa in 1964. The movies were "travelogue" in nature and Malcolm X gave a running narrative on the various scenes. Following the movies, Malcolm X answered questions on life in Africa and then closed the meeting.

Flees Midtown Hotel

By LES MATTHEWS

The former press secretary of Heavyweight Champion Muhammad Ali (Cassius Clay) told the Amsterdam News Tuesday that Malcolm X has been marked for death by his former Muslim associates.

He added that orders were issued by the Muslims last October calling for all Muslims who followed Malcolm X to be killed or maimed.

The charges were made by Late Ameer, 31, who until last December 26 was a captain in the Muslim order of Elijah Muhammad assigned as the press secretary to heavyweight champion Cassius Clay whose Muslim name is Muhammad Ali. (Clay called Ameer a "back slider" Tuesday night and said Ameer never worked for him).

Ameer, who was in Boston with Clay while Clay trained for a fight with Sonny Liston, fell from grace in the Muhammad Muslim on December 26 when he was accused of trying to lead Clay out of the Muslim order.

He was severely beaten in the lobby of the Sherry-Biltmore Hotel in Boston where he and Clay (Continued on Page Two) were staying and police said he was beaten by his fellow Muslims.

Hospitalized for 13 days with a fractured skull, broken ribs and a ruptured ear drum, Ameer came to New York this week and was promptly threatened by the Muslim organization here. He was forced to flee from a midtown hotel where he had a room.

He met Amsterdam News reporters in a secluded place Tuesday where he flatly said that the shooting of a Correction Officer in the Bronx was all tied up with the war among Muslims created by the defection of Malcolm X from the Elijah Muhammad forces.

Ameer who said he knows he is also marked for death, said the shooting of the Correction Officer is only the beginning of the execution of the Muslim order calling for the killing or maiming of anyone defecting from the organization.

"I know the twisted minds of the men I am fighting," Ameer said.

"I joined the movement in 1956 and was a member of the inner circle. I was the chief security officer for Elijah Muhammad when he visited New York. I taught the Muslims Karate from Miami to Buffalo.

"I was recently sent to take over the New Haven, Conn., area which includes Stamford. We had 30 members. I was sent an order to sell 7,000 Muhammad Spiced newspapers every two weeks. That was almost impossible. In the end, I signed a certain number of papers and he is expected to sell them or pay for them.

"I told the minister, Abdul Karim, that we couldn't sell all these papers and I became an outcast. During my stay in the movement Raymond Sharif, captain over all captains, was my immediate boss.

"I was given orders by John Ali, the National Secretary, to watch Cassius Clay.

"Laborers"

"Clay is being used to weed young men and women into the Muslim fold. He is a dedicated young man who believes in the spiritual movement of the Muslims, but the truth is that the spiritual sense of the organization is just about dead and a strong ruthless structure has taken over."

"Orders to kill and maim come directly from Chicago and the 'laborers' that's what the followers are called, will carry out these orders," he said.

Ameer is married and the father of seven children.

Police in Boston have arrested four Muslims and charged them with the assault on Ameer. They are currently on trial in Boston. Ameer was scheduled to return there Wednesday to testify in the trial.

Cassius (Muhammad Ali) Speaks Out On Malcolm X

"Malcolm believed the white press, which referred to him as the 'number two man' and became disillusioned," heavyweight champ Muhammad Ali (Cassius Clay) told more than 2,000 Muslims who jammed the Audubon Ballroom for the annual Fruit Of Islam dinner-dance Tuesday night.

Muhammad Ali, fully recovered from his recent hernia operation and accompanied to the fight by his trainer Drew Doudini Bivani, said Elijah Muhammad was the "greatest." He noted that while the crowd was large no one was smoking, drinking or using profanity.

"I turned down an offer to (Continued on Page Two) play in a movie in England," the champ declared. "because they wanted me to appear with a white woman."

Minister James, the next speaker, said the white man's prestige is suffering throughout the world.

"Muhammad was sent here more than 30 years ago to redeem the black man", he stated. He also warned against the defamation of the name of Elijah Muhammad."

Muhammad Ali, or Minister James, made no reference to the fight in the Bronx which allegedly was between Muslims, but he referred to a "sick young man who gave the press statements that the Muslims would kill me, Muhammad Ali." He also said the young man never worked for him.

He was obviously referring to Leon Ametr described as the former press secretary to the boxing champ.

REMARKS OF MALCOLM X ON

FBI - NEW YORK

LES CRANE:

My next guest is Mr. Malcolm X, ladies and gentlemen.

LES CRANE:

Fine. This interview is going to be a little difficult for me to do because I know Malcolm. We have done shows together before. He has been a guest of mine on a couple of different occasions. We have had telephone conversations of length and of interest. And there is, so to get the story, I am going to make believe we have never met. O.K.?

MALCOLM X:

This is probably the best way.

LES CRANE:

O.K. Let's just, let's just start from the beginning. First of all, what is the Black Muslim Movement?

MALCOLM X:

Well, as you know, I am not in the Black Muslim Movement.

LES CRANE:

I know. I know that.

MALCOLM X:

The Black Muslim Movement is an organization in this country that is headed by Elijah Muhammed.

LES CRANE:

That's all?

MALCOLM X:

It is an organization that is headed by Elijah Muhammed. It says it is a religious organization and that it's religion is Islam, but the people in the world of Islam don't accept it as an orthodox Islamic or a religious organization.

LES CRANE:

In other words, they claim to be a branch, an American branch, of the Mohammedan religion.

MALCOLM X:

No. Not the Mohammed. The real Muslim never refers to his religion as the Mohammedan religion. His religion is Islam.

LES CRANE:

Mohammed being a prophet of that religion?

MALCOLM X:

Yes, Mohammed is one of the prophets of that religion.

LES CRANE:

Right.

MALCOLM X:

The people who believe in that religion believe in all the prophets -- Moses, Abraham, Jesus, all of them. Like they believe in Mohammed Abdulah as the last of the prophets, and Elijah Muhammed in this country says that he is also teaching that religion, but that religion is a religion of brotherhood. It advocates the brotherhood of man. All men.

LES CRANE:

That's the Muslim religion?

MALCOLM X:

Yes. This is the, well, those who practice the religion of Islam call themselves Muslims.

LES CRANE:

Right.

MALCOLM X:

In this country they are referred to as Moslems.

LES CRANE:

Now, you consider yourself to be a Moslem in this country?

MALCOLM X:

Known as a Moslem?

LES CRANE:

Yes.

MALCOLM X:

I believe in the religion of Islam.

Elijah Muhammed that caused me to greatly question his ability as a man, much less as a religious leader, and based upon that doubt I went in search of an understanding of the religion of Islam. I made the hadj or the pilgrimage to Mecca. While I was at -- one of the things that Elijah Muhammed always taught us was that Islam is a religion of god. It was a religion in which no whites could participate, and he used to prove his point, he told us that Mecca was a forbidden city -- a city that was forbidden to non-Muslims, and since the white person cannot be a Muslim, in his teaching he said that no whites could enter Mecca. Well, I went to Mecca in May, rather in April, and everyone was there. In fact, one member of the Turkish Parliament, who had brought bus loads, several hundred bus loads from Turkey to make the pilgrimage, was standing with me on the steps of the hotel in (Minah or Menna), which is a short distance from Mecca, and he pointed at that time that Mecca, during the hadj season or the pilgrimage season, would be an anthropologist's paradise because every specimen of humanity is represented there. It is an absolute brotherhood. So that when I saw this with my own eyes and saw that people of all colors could practice brotherhood, it was at that point that I wrote back and pointed out that I believed in Islam as a religion of brotherhood. But this belief in brotherhood does not alter the fact that I am also an Afro-American or American Negro, as you wish, in a society which has very serious and severe race problems which no religion can blind me to.

LES CRANE:

Well, what's interesting to me, there were words that you never used to use in the past in our discussions. You never used to use the word "negro". That word offended you. You used to say "the so-called Negro".

LES CRANE:

I know that the word "integration" offends you. You do not believe in the use of that word. You prefer to think of it as brotherhood, which is, for the purposes of our discussion, going to be the same thing. But in the old days, you did not believe in brotherhood. You believed in pure, strict separation, didn't you? Whenever I opened my mouth, I always said that the Honorable Elijah Muhammed teaches us thus and so, and I spoke for him. I represented him. I represented an organization and organizational thinking. Many of my own views that I had from personal experience I kept to myself. I was faithful to that organization and to that man. Since things came about that made me doubt his integrity, I think for myself. I listen as much as I can to everyone and try to come up with a capsule opinion, a capsulized opinion. I believe that it is possible for brotherhood to be brought about among all people, but I do not delude myself into dreaming or falling for a dream that this exists before it exists. Some of the American, some of the leaders of our people in this country always say that they, you know, they believe in this dream. But while they are dreaming, our people are having a nightmare, and I don't think that you can make a dream come true by pretending that that dream exists when it does not.

MALCOLM X:

LES CRANE:

You have been a critic of some of the Negro leadership in this country - Martin Luther King, Roy Wilkins, Abernathy and others. Have you changed in your feelings toward them of late?

MALCOLM X:

I think all of us should be critics of each other. Whenever you can't stand criticism, you can never grow. I don't think that it serves any purpose for the leaders of our people to waste their time fighting each other needlessly. I think that we accomplish more when we sit down in private and iron out whatever differences that may exist and try and then do something constructive for the benefit of our people, but on the other hand, I don't think that we should be above criticism. I don't think that anyone should be above criticism.

LES CRANE:

Violence or the threat of violence has always been surrounded, has always surrounded you. Speeches that you have made have been interpreted as being threats. You have made statements reported to the press about the Negroes should go out and arm themselves and form militias of their own. I read a thing once -- a statement that I believe you made. That every Negro should belong to the National Rifle Association.

MALCOLM X:

No. I said this. That in areas of this country where the government has proven either its inability or its unwillingness to protect the lives and property of our people, then it is only fair to expect us to do whatever is necessary to protect ourselves. And in situations like Mississippi, places like Mississippi where the government actually has proven its inability to protect us and it has been proven that oftentimes the police officers and sheriffs themselves are involved in the murder that takes place against our people, and I feel and I would say that anywhere that our people should start doing what is necessary to protect ourselves. This does not mean that we should fire rifles and go out and initiate attacks indiscriminately against whites. But it does mean that we should get whatever is necessary to protect ourselves in a country or in an area where the governmental ability to protect us has broken down.

LES CRANE:

Therefore, you do not agree with Dr. King's Ghandian philosophy?

MALCOLM X:

My belief in brotherhood would never restrain me in any way from protecting myself in a society from a people whose disrespect for brotherhood makes them feel inclined to put my neck on a tree at the end of a rope.

LES CRANE:

Well, it sounds as though you could be preaching sort of an anarchy.

MALCOLM X:

No, no. I respect government and respect law, but does the government and the law respect us? If the FBI, which is what the people depend upon on a national scale to protect the morale and the property and the lives of people, can't do so when the property and lives of Negroes and whites who try to help Negroes are concerned, then I think that it is only fair to expect elements to do whatever is necessary to protect themselves.

and this is no departure from normal procedure because right here in New York City you have vigilante committees that have been set up by groups who see that their neighborhood and community is endangered and the law cannot do anything about it. So, and even their lives are at stake. So, but the fearless seems to come only into existence when someone says Negroes should form vigilante committees and protect their lives and their property. I am not advocating the breaking of any law, but I say that our people will never be respected as human beings until we react as other normal, intelligent human beings do. And this country came into existence by people who were tired of tyranny and oppression and exploitation and the brutality that was being inflicted upon them by powers higher than them. And I think that it is only fair to expect us sooner or later to do likewise.

LES CRANE:

Yea. One last question. You do not preach separatism anymore, and I, I assume that you do not want to set up a Black African State in this country anymore. What is your main effort toward now?

MALCOLM X:

Well, one of the organizations which we have now formed - the Organization of Afro-American Unity - has reached the conclusion, after a careful analysis of the problem, that approaching our problem just on the level of civil rights and keeping it within the jurisdiction of the United States will not bring a solution. It is not a Negro problem or an American problem any longer. It is a world problem. It is a human problem. And so, we are striving to lift it from the level of civil rights to the level of human rights, and at that level, it is international.

We can bring it into the United Nations and discuss it in the same tone and in the same language as the problems of people in other parts of the world also is discussed.

LES CRANE:

I'm afraid the clock has caught us. It has been interesting. Thank you so much for coming.

MALCOLM X:

You're welcome.

Organization of Afro-American Unity
Internal Security - Miscellaneous

Characterizations of the Organization of Afro-American Unity (OAAU), Muslim Mosque, Incorporated (MMI) and the Nation of Islam (NOI) are attached hereto and all sources therein have furnished reliable information in the past.

On January 11, 1965, a confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past advised as follows:

On January 10, 1965, the OAAU held a public rally at the Audubon Ballroom, Broadway and 166th Street, New York City, from 8:25 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. Approximately 250 persons were in attendance.

The rally was opened and conducted by OAAU and MMI leader Malcolm X Little. The entire program consisted of the showing of movies taken by Malcolm X during his four month tour of Africa in 1964. Two films were shown, one strictly on the United Arab Republic (UAR) and the second on several other African countries, chiefly Ethiopia. During the movies Malcolm X made explanatory comments with particular emphasis on the military might of the UAR whenever the film displayed UAR soldiers or military equipment. For example, a shot of a UAR soldier holding a rifle on his shoulder prompted Malcolm X to state that he (the soldier) had freedom on his shoulder. Malcolm X also remarked that the UAR was training and supplying "revolutionaries" to fight against the Congo regime of Moise Tshombe.

Following the movies, Malcolm X answered a few questions on the OAAU. He stated that the OAAU continues to hold a "Liberation School" each Saturday morning in Suite 126, Hotel Theresa, New York City, where Negro history and culture are taught. He also announced that the OAAU would hold a class on child care each Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m., in Suite 126 of the Hotel Theresa, starting on January 14, 1965.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

Foil Plot to Murder Malcolm X in Philly

Because of several threats on his life during the past few weeks, Malcolm X, the controversial former right hand man of Elijah Muhammad, leader of the Black Muslims, is being guarded around the clock by at least a dozen bodyguards, the Courier learned.

The most recent threat came last week in Philadelphia when 73 city cops were assigned to watch over him during his appearance there on a local radio show. Deputy Police Commissioner Frank Rizzo said the threats came from a dissident group, which he didn't identify.

Since his break with the Muslims early last year, Malcolm X has organized a black nationalist party of his own and made several trips to Egypt. He was first suspended, and then ousted, from the Muslims after he made derogatory remarks about the late President Kennedy's assassination in December, 1963.

Last month Raymond Sherieff, national captain of the Fruit of Islam, the security forces of the Muslims, warned Mr. X to "cease and desist" his "slandering the name of their leader, Mr. Muhammad. He refused to elaborate on the "or else" ultimatum he issued to Malcolm in case he didn't take heed of his open telegram to him.

Severely critical of Mr. Muhammad since he left the sect, Malcolm several times complained to New York cops that his life was in danger from followers of Mr. Muhammad who had sworn to get him. Several of his followers were arrested last summer with guns in their possession.

They told the courts that they were protecting Malcolm against assault by Muslim members. During a speech Mr. X once told an audience that he knew the "order" had gone out to "wash him away."

Wherever he travels, both in and out of the city, he's well protected by members of his new group. They screen all persons wanting to see him in his Theresa Hotel office on business, check a building before he enters it and proceed and follow his car in their own autos.

Re New York airtel and LHM to Bureau, cc to Chicago and Philadelphia, dated 12/24/64, captioned "MMI; IS-MMI".

Re Chicago airtel to Bureau, cc to New York, Philadelphia and other offices, dated 12/31/64, captioned "ADUS; IS-MISC".

Referenced communications deal with the possible merger of the Muslim Mosque, Inc. (MMI), Afro-Descendant Upliftment Society (ADUS) and Muslim Brotherhood, USA (MBUSA) into the International Muslim Brotherhood (IMB), and the possible interview with the three leaders of these groups, namely MALCOLM X. LITTLE, WALLACE MUHAMMAD and TALIB AHMAD DAWUD.

The NYO agrees with Chicago in referenced airtel of 12/31/64, that Chicago should continue to contact WALLACE MUHAMMAD and HASSAN SHARRIEFF concerning this matter, particularly in view of the excellent rapport that has been established with these individuals.

The NYO also agrees with Chicago's comment in the same airtel that TALIB AHMAD DAWUD should not be interviewed at this time. In previous contacts with DAWUD by agents of the NYO, he has left the impression of being an opportunist with a grudge against ELIJAH MUHAMMAD and one who evidenced emotional instability. Also, the latest interview of WALLACE indicated no association with DAWUD.

In regard to an interview with MALCOLM X, the NYO continues to feel, as previously set out in New York airtels to the Bureau on 10/15/64 and 12/16/64, that a period of 60 to 90 days from the date of his return from Africa should be allowed to pass before an attempt is made to interview him. Since MALCOLM X returned from Africa on 11/24/64, the NYO contemplates requesting Bureau authority to interview him sometime after mid-February, 1965. This lapse of time will afford MALCOLM X the opportunity to put in effect his new alleged philosophical change if he in fact intends to do so while at the same time it will permit the Bureau to better assess him and his activities; thus enhancing the chances of a productive interview.

The NYO does not feel that this plan should be altered, even though the possibility of a merger between the MMI and ADUS exists, for the following reasons:

1. Although MALCOLM X was not antagonistic during a previous interview in 1964, he could not be classified as cooperative since he would furnish no information of merit.
2. Current statements and remarks by MALCOLM X reflect no real change from the "anti-white" line he has expressed for years.
3. The merger of the MMI and ADUS appears to be currently in a "talking stage" with no real organization details or set up agreed on to date. It is interesting to note that when interviewed WALLACE stated he felt he could dominate and steady MALCOLM X (re CM airtel and LHM, 12/22/64) while MALCOLM X's assistant, JAMES 67X WARDEN in New York City, states that the new Islamic group will be headed by MALCOLM X with headquarters in NYC (re NY airtel and LHM, 12/24/64).
4. Chicago already has an established good relationship with WALLACE who is cooperating and appears willing to furnish information on the progress of any such merger.

Consequently, UACB, the NYO will not consider an interview with MALCOLM X at this time but will submit a request for authority to interview him after mid-February, 1965.

Democracy in Action

ALBANY.

It was almost impossible to believe that Malcolm X was the only man in the Assembly Chamber yesterday afternoon who had ever come out firmly for anarchy. Everyone else seemed to be practicing it.

Malcolm X made the trip to Albany to watch his friend, Percy Sutton, installed as a freshman Assemblyman. Malcolm sat in the gallery and, for the first time in his life, saw the New York State Legislature in session. He survived, but the ordeal would be worse for the average citizen. Malcolm X prepared for the experience by observing the governments of emerging African nations. Without such preparation, a trip to Albany can be terribly unsettling.

At least the Africans know who their rulers are. The legislators here don't. When the first session of 1965 began at 12:15 p. m. yesterday, only 15 minutes behind schedule, the Democratic legislators had not yet picked a majority leader for the Senate or a speaker for the Assembly. They were still thinking about it. Their caution was perfectly understandable. After all, they have had only 30 years—since they last controlled both houses of the Legislature—to think about whom their leaders would be.

In the absence of a speaker, Ansley B. Borkowski, the Assembly clerk, called the session to order. He was the perfect choice. He is an ex-Republican Assemblyman, so he understands the responsibility of his position. He mumbled something about it behooving him to call the meeting to order, and one of the Assemblymen in the audience leaned forward in his leather chair and yelled, "Can't hear you, Ansley."

"You're not supposed to," said Borkowski, cheerfully. This set the dignified mood for most of the session.

PRIME QUALIFICATION

A prime qualification for membership in the Assembly seems to be the possession of a bad sense of humor. When the clerk announced the arrival in the Assembly of Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson, who presides over the Senate, Brooklyn Assemblyman Max Turshen shouted, loud and clear, "Never heard of him."

Turshen has sat in the Assembly every year since 1937, longer than anyone else, which helps explain his quick wit. He wasn't that funny when he first came to Albany, but the atmosphere grows on you.

Led by the Lieutenant Governor, the members of the Senate began filing into the Assembly Chamber to hear Gov. Rockefeller's state of the state address. As the Senators came in, Brooklyn Assemblyman Bertram Podell reinforced Brooklyn's reputation as the spawning ground of comics. He stage-whispered, "Watch your pocketbooks, fellows, they're coming in."

Assemblyman Podell is a close associate of Stanley Steingut, another Brooklyn Assemblyman, and Steingut is probably going to become Speaker of the Assembly, if there ever is a new Speaker of the Assembly. Podell sat right next to Steingut yesterday, but he thought of the bag all by himself.

DIGNIFIED SENATORS

Then the Governor got up and delivered his speech. Every member of the Legislature already had a copy of the speech, and you could tell the Governor knew it by the great amount of feeling he put into his words. The Senators, as guests of the Assemblymen, sat up front. They are the more dignified of the two houses; during the speech, they chatted only in groups of two. A few Democratic Senators practiced facial contortions to indicate their appreciation of the Governor's remarks. Rockefeller deserves a lot of credit for reading through to the end. He doesn't have to do this for a living.

When the Governor finished, the Assembly and the Senate recessed for the afternoon. The Democrats wanted to do some more thinking about potential leaders. Some one suggested they settle the whole problem by making Robert Wagner Senate Majority Leader and Robert Kennedy Speaker of the Assembly, but he was probably being facetious. Wagner and Kennedy weren't even in Albany yesterday, so obviously they do not care who gets the job.

The Democratic legislators have been doing their deliberating behind closed doors. The Legislative reporters have been doing their reporting on the other side of the doors. This is called journalistic endeavor. It is also called eavesdropping. The reporters hear phrases like, "Why, that's blackmail . . ." and "You're stubborn . . ." This is called the democratic process.

Despite the hazards, every citizen of the State of New York should, at some time in his life, take a trip to Albany and watch the Legislature in session. It is a necessary educational experience, like reading the life of Attila the Hun.

MUHAMMAD expressed surprise and commented [REDACTED] had given stories that he had his materials and that he, ELIJAH, had helped him much over the past six or seven years. ELIJAH stated he would watch over [REDACTED] and see if that is in his heart and if so he will tell him where to go. ELIJAH commented it could be that [REDACTED] had some clever plan to find out something and this may not be his real feeling in his heart as he is a very smart man in that he knows ELIJAH'S position. ELIJAH stated he thought [REDACTED] was really with him.

Concerning the comments by MALCOLM X on the OAAU, [REDACTED] advised that the only "reforming" being done by the OAAU consists of efforts to reactivate the committees which were previously set up but had become completely inactive. In regard to the forming of a pool of qualified technicians to go to Africa, [REDACTED] advised that this is only in the talking stage and nothing definite has been set up.

Characterization of the Organization of Afro-American Unity (OAAU), Muslim Mosque, Incorporated (MMI) and the Nation of Islam (NOI) are attached hereto and all sources therein have furnished reliable information in the past.

On January 4, 1965, two confidential sources who have both furnished reliable information in the past, furnished the following information:

On January 3, 1965, from 8:15 PM to 10:30 PM, the OAAU held a public rally in the Audubon Ballroom, Broadway and 166th Street, New York City. There were approximately 600 people in attendance.

The meeting was opened by OAAU and MMI member SHERRON JACKSON who immediately introduced the featured speaker Malcolm X Little, leader of the MMI and Chairman of the OAAU.

Malcolm X made a few introductory remarks concerning the military and industrial potential of Africa and then proceeded to show movies that he took during his four month tour of Africa in the latter part of 1964. He showed two movies each of about 40 minutes length during which he made explanatory comments. The first movie was completely on the United Arab Republic (UAR) and featured a parade of UAR military equipment taken on some political celebration day. The second movie included various views of Kenya and Ethiopia. During the showing of the movies Malcolm X commented that these movies were edited by MII and OAAU member Earl Grant.

Following the movies, Malcolm X spoke briefly on Africa and denied that he was responsible for the present feelings of African United Nations (UN) diplomats against racism in America. He also commented that James Farmer, head of the Congress of Racial Equality, would learn a lot on his announced future visit to Africa.

Malcolm X also commented that the OAAU is reforming in order to function more effectively and they plan to form a pool of technically qualified Negroes who will go to Africa to work.

Malcolm X then introduced a UN delegate from Kenya, Okello Odongo, who spoke briefly on the history and independence of Kenya and endorsed the OAAU plan to form a pool of technicians since they are badly needed in Africa.

MOSLEMS IN CITY BEGIN HOLY MONTH

Ramadan, Observed by Fast in Daytime, Starts at Mosque in Brooklyn

By PAUL L. MONTGOMERY

When it became impossible to distinguish a white thread from a black thread by the light of the waning sun yesterday, the holy month of Ramadan began for the Moslems of the city.

In the dimly lit mosque of the Islamic Mission on State Street, Brooklyn, Sheik Al-Hajj Ahmad Ahmed Faizal intoned the praise of Allah, proper to the start of the penitential season.

For the next 28 days according to the lunar calendar, devout Moslems are obliged to abstain from eating, drinking and physical pleasures during the daylight hours. The fast is one of the five basic tenets of Islam. The others are the pilgrimage to Mecca, recitation of prayers, giving of alms and profession of faith.

In Moslem countries the month is exemplified by a slower pace of life and by strained tempers — except at night, when the prescriptions of Ramadan are relaxed.

Speeches at U.N. Shorter

At the United Nations, observers have noted that during Ramadan the tempo of work in Moslem delegations is slower and the speeches by Moslem delegates shorter. But, an attaché said yesterday, "If one abstains in the true sense, one should abstain from loss of stamina as well."

He added that many delegates, Moslem and non-Moslem alike, were disturbed by the threatened withdrawal of Indonesia from the world body. "We are supposed to abstain from wicked thoughts during Ramadan too," he said, "but at this year's session it will be hard."

In addition to the services at the Islamic Mission, others were held last night at the Islamic Foundation of New York, 1 Riverside Drive; the International Muslim Brotherhood, 303 West 125th Street, and at a mosque at 104 Powers Street in Brooklyn.

Malcolm X Holds Rally

The Powers Street mosque is something of an anomaly, since it is on the fringe of the Orthodox Jewish community in Williamsburg. Its adherents are primarily Eastern European Moslems who came over in the same wave of immigration as the Jews.

Malcolm X, the Black Nationalist leader who is a recent convert to orthodox Islam, held a rally of his organization of Afro-American Unity last night to show movies of his recent visits to Islamic and African leaders.

The Black Muslims, with whom Malcolm split last year, also observe a kind of Ramadan but it is based on the Western calendar and takes place during the month of December.

The information available from [REDACTED] as set forth in letterhead memorandum was made available on 12/28&29/64. The information indicated AKBAR was interviewed by a Major ROBINSON of the "Courier" upon his return to New York from Egypt and prior to his going to Chicago, Illinois, to see his father. This was in early November, 1964. Chicago reviewed the 12/26/64 and the 1/2/65 issues of the "Chicago Courier" and no article relating to AKBAR by a Major ROBINSON was noted in either issue. Chicago presumes this article must have appeared in the "New York Courier".

In this connection [REDACTED] advised that MARK CRAWFORD, apparently a representative of some type for "Life" magazine, made available the information regarding AKBAR to DICK DURHAM, the editor of "Muhammad Speaks" newspaper and DURHAM passed the same on to ELIJAH MUHAMMAD on 12/28/64. It would appear that the article would have been in a "New York Courier" issue which came out on or shortly before 12/28/64.

[REDACTED] also indicated AKBAR made his press release in Egypt to a newspaper titled the "Gazette", not further identified as to city or country but possibly a Cairo publication.

The New York Office is requested, if not already done, to furnish the Bureau and Chicago with copies of the interview of AKBAR MOHAMMED by Major ROBINSON as appeared in the "New York Courier".

Akbar Mohammed has stated, and already has, he is going to publish his opposition to Elijah Muhammad in a paper in Egypt and plans to attend a meeting of Moslem leaders scheduled to be held in early 1965 in Somaliland (the Republic of Somalia) to take up the matter with them.

Akbar also was interviewed by a newspaper in the United States on his return to this country prior to his coming to Chicago to see his father, Elijah Muhammad. During this interview Akbar made the following comments:

He had flown in from Egypt to have a showdown with his father as he differed with his father on most aspects of the Muslim philosophy. He had, after three years of study, opened his eyes to the true Muslim religion and it did not preach race of any kind but stressed the brotherhood of man no matter what his color. He regards his father's brand of "Muslim" as home made and one that is stifled by rules and regulations. He also disagrees with his father's claim that he is the Messenger of Allah. Malcolm Little and added he would never denounce Malcolm until his parents could show him that Malcolm was unworthy on the basis of Islamic theology. He has come to realize, since working on his Ph.D in Islamic Jurisprudence, that many of his father's teachings were wrong and he had made up his mind to split with his father as early as last August but he had wanted to come to Chicago first.

Elijah Muhammad was advised of the statements attributed to Akbar and stated he would not say any more about Akbar until he saw what Akbar had to say. He commented Akbar had already been classified as a hypocrite to his mission and to the God he "preaches".

A second confidential informant in August, 1964, advised Akbar, one of Elijah Muhammad's sons, was a member of the Nation of Islam, was attending school in Cairo, Egypt, and was the African correspondent for "Muhammad Speaks" newspaper.

"Muhammad Speaks" is self-described in its various issues as published on a bi-weekly basis by Muhammad's Mosque No. 2, Chicago, Illinois.

All confidential sources utilized in this communication and in the Appendix attached have furnished reliable information in the past unless otherwise indicated.

The "National Guardian", a weekly publication, New York City, dated December 26, 1964, page four, in an article, entitled, "Political Action Federation Outlines Steps At Conference", announced that preliminary steps were taken December 19 to establish a Negro power bloc in New York at the Federation for Independent Political Action's first conference on "The Black Revolution - A Struggle for Political Power."

The following is quoted from the "National Guardian" article:

"In a day-long discussion, leaders of New York's community-based Negro organizations approved a series of immediate moves to alleviate conditions in the ghettos and named an interim committee to formulate long-range goals and plans. The call to the conference stated its aim thus:

" 'Black independent political action means active organized involvement of the man-in-the-street, the victims of ruthless slumlords, the unemployed and youth to change rotten conditions in the ghetto. Through struggle, political power can be built by the people for liberation from white-dominated political control and economic exploitation. With independent political power, the black revolution can boldly move forward in advancing the interests of the masses.' "

The conference was described as "all-black" even the press was asked to send Negro reporters and television crews, but none came, according to the article.

The article related that interim committee members named were: Isaiah Robinson, chairman of the Harlem Parents Committee and vice chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee to Support the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party Challenge; Jesse Gray; Reverend Milton Galamison, school boycott leader and chairman of the Brooklyn Parents Workshop for Equality; Jim Haughton, director of the Harlem Unemployment Center; William Strickland, Northern Student Movement; Clarence Jones, attorney; John Henrik Clarke, an editor of "Freedomways", and Malcom X.

Among specific actions supported is the scheduled February 3 shut-down of 31 junior high schools and 15 of the so-called "600" schools (for difficult pupils). The aims of the shut-down are (1) upgrading of 200 Negro and Puerto Rican teachers to supervisory and administrative positions; (2) establishment of a curriculum and screening of evaluation process for "600" schools; (3) the hiring of Negro custodians; (4) halting of school construction on present sites.

The federation also decided to support the drive for passage by the State Legislature of the "emergency repair bill" empowering the city to collect rents and make building repairs five days after a complaint is filed. A delegation to Albany at the opening of the Legislature January 4 will demand passage of the bill.

Two themes were stressed by the speakers (1) Unity among all grassroots groups to form a political action movement; (2) house-by-house organization to fight for the needs and desires of the people.

In his keynote address, Jesse Gray stated that "a revolutionary movement is in the making." He said: "The lack of unified, organized black political power is one reason we are not yet a revolutionary movement. Another is that we require revolutionaries. Real revolutionaries are out in the streets organizing people around their day-to-day problems."

The article further related that Victoria Gray, one of the three Freedom Democratic Party congresswomen from Mississippi, related the history of the attempt by the Mississippi Negroes to gain a voice in politics first through the regular Democratic Party - which almost totally bars Negro participation - and then through the formation of the FDP. Mrs. Gray asked conference delegates to support the party's challenge to the seating of the five "regular" Mississippi representatives in Congress next session.

The article noted that identification with Modern Africa and the American Negro's Cultural Heritage in Africa was apparent in the emblem of the Federation for Political Action (FIPA) - a stylized African lion.

The "National Guardian" is characterized in the Appendix.

The Violent Ones

ROY WILKINS

Nothing in the civil rights situation engages the attention of white Americans more quickly than the suggestion that the long patient Negro is about to take up arms and wreak vengeance for past mistreatment.

The white public listens with only half an ear to the deadly statistics on Negro unemployment. It gives only part-time attention to the dilapidation, the rats, the filth, the robber rents and the crime of the slums. It yawns over demonstrably inferior schools in the Negro ghettos.

But let someone, known or unknown, raise a cry about using guns in a shooting war with white folks and the white community is all ears.

Malcolm X, the split-off Black Muslim, has been garnering gobs of attention for himself by expounding the don't-turn-the-other-cheek philosophy. Not only don't turn it, advises Malcolm, but smack a cheek of your own—a white cheek.

Malcolm went to the Middle East some months ago where he confessed to the discovery that white people are people, too. Commentators hoped, rather wistfully, that white Americans hereafter might expect less cyanide and more of the milk of human kindness in his sermons. It was not to be. At year's end Malcolm made sure of their unease and their apprehension for 1963 by a Harlem speech calling for the formation of a Mau Mau Society.

"If the language (of the oppressors) is a shotgun, get a shotgun," he said. . . "he who kills by the sword shall be killed by the sword." Pointing a finger at his audience of fewer than 500 he urged Negroes to "even the score" with whites.

Malcolm X is a persuasive debater and a rabble-rousing speaker in the Adam Clayton Powell class, which is to say, top grade. He also has grievances on his side—deep, callous, cruel grievances. The murderous Simon Legree policies of Mississippi and of areas in several other Deep South states are encouraged by the indifference of non-Southerners. The Malcolms, few though they be in number, have something going for them: the statistics, the history, the burnings, bombings, killings and perversions of justice in the courts.

But going against the Malcolms is the fact that they are probably too late. The forces under the banner of non-violence have at last aroused the nation. History has taken a turn in the years since World War II which has compelled the U. S. to act on its racial problem.

Even if the attendance figure was off by 200, this number out of 400,000 people in Harlem does not suggest overwhelming enthusiasm in that community for the Mau Mau approach. History reveals that Negro Americans, as a group, have never committed themselves to retaliatory violence as a policy.

If they did not reach for shotguns and rifles when lynchings were at a twice-a-week average and when segregation and discrimination were in humiliating flower, they are not about to immolate themselves now, when things are improving, especially when they consider the 9-to-1 numerical odds.

This is not to rule out violence here and there, nor to suggest that every one of the impatient and frustrated younger Negro generation will abide by historical trends. These are more bitterly aware of their imposed disabilities than they were before better education and better communication opened their eyes. Some may listen to the Malcolms, especially if mobs are egged on by police and if persecution goes unpunished.

But if the United States does not rest on pious declarations and on a law-on-the-books, but moves steadily to eliminate racial bias, the Mau Mau idea will sputter and die.

MALCOLM X CITES ROLE IN U.N. FIGHT

Says He Swayed Africans to Attack U.S. 'Racism'

By M. A. HANDLER

Malcolm X said this week that he had prepared the political groundwork in the capitals of Africa for the recent concerted attack on American "racism" in the debate on the Congo in the United Nations.

He said he had sought to convince the African governments that, in debate at the United Nations, they should link their problems with the Negro problem in the United States. He said this political goal was achieved this summer and autumn in four months of intensive conversations with the heads of the African governments and their parliamentary chiefs.

The black nationalist leader was the guest of the heads of government he visited. His objective, he reported in numerous letters to a friend in New York, was to persuade the governments of the new African states to adopt a policy based on these points:

① Civil rights organizations in the United States have accomplished the most they can hope for under the existing conditions.

② The time has come to internationalize the American Negro problem so as to accentuate the struggle.

③ This can be done only by linking the fate of the new African states with that of American Negroes.

④ This should be done by employing the racial situation in the United States as an instrument of attack in discussing international problems.

Such a strategy would give the African states more leverage in dealing with the United States and would in turn give American Negroes more leverage in American society.

Mississippi Cited in U.N.

The spokesmen of some African states acted precisely within the framework of these recommendations last month in the Congo debate at the United Nations. They accused the United States with being indifferent to the fate of the blacks and cited as evidence the attitude of the United States Government toward the civil rights struggle in Mississippi.

The African move profoundly disturbed the American authorities, who gave the impression that they had been caught off guard.

However, early last August the State Department and Justice Department began to take an interest in Malcolm's activities in North Africa.

Malcolm opened his campaign to internationalize the American Negro problem at the second meeting of the 33 heads of independent African states in Cairo, which convened July 17. He submitted to the conference an eight-page memorandum demanding support for his campaign.

Among other things, the memorandum said:

"Your problems will never be solved until and unless ours are solved. You will never be respected until and unless we are respected."

"You will never be recognized as free human beings until and unless we are also recognized as human beings."

Re Chicago airtel of December 22, 1964, set forth the results of an interview of MUHAMMAD which was conducted on December 18, 1964, prior to receipt of re Bureau letter.

A review of this interview reflects it covered the points mentioned in paragraph three of re Bureau letter; namely, that he be questioned regarding a merger between himself and LITTLE, regarding control and leadership of the combined group, and regarding financial arrangements especially possible funds received from a foreign government. Chicago does not feel HASSAN SHARRIEFF should be interviewed in this connection at this time based primarily on the fact MUHAMMAD continues to appear to be cooperative and at the time of the interview of him on December 18, 1964, had even stated he was considering calling the Agents to discuss the subject matter. It is felt an interview of SHARRIEFF in this specific regard at this time might well tend to alienate WALLACE MUHAMMAD and even SHARRIEFF as it could give the impression one was being set against the other. It is further noted SHARRIEFF is employed full time at present and did not journey with MUHAMMAD to either Philadelphia or New York in early December, 1964. It is felt WALLACE MUHAMMAD is in a position to furnish more factual data while it is felt SHARRIEFF would only be able to furnish such data as WALLACE MUHAMMAD passed on to him.

Re Bureau letter instructs that no interviews are to be conducted in this matter without specific Bureau authority in advance for each interview. In view of the apparent cooperation as exhibited in the past by both MUHAMMAD and SHARRIEFF, Chicago desires to conduct future interviews of both, as it has done in the past, at such intervals of time as would avoid the possibility of alienating them. UACB Chicago will continue to interview both as it has been doing in the past. If information is developed indicating this should not be done, the Bureau will be promptly advised. At present, Chicago anticipates interviewing both SHARRIEFF and MUHAMMAD in late January, 1965. WALLACE MUHAMMAD will be considered as the more important of the two. Both will be specifically questioned regarding points set forth earlier in this communication.

Re Chicago airtel of December 22, 1964, suggested New York give consideration to an interview of MALCOLM LITTLE and that Philadelphia give consideration to an interview of NASIR UHMAD of the International Muslim Brotherhood. Chicago still recommends consideration be given to these interviews. It is felt such interviews may assist in determining the various affiliations of LITTLE, MUHAMMAD and NASIR and may also assist in determining the location of headquarters and the leaders of these affiliations, the tenets thereof, and possible financial backing.

Re Bureau letter of December 17, 1964, suggested consideration be given to interviewing HAJJI TALIB AHMAD DAWUD of the Muslim Brotherhood, USA in Philadelphia. Chicago does not feel an interview of DAWUD should be conducted based on the fact WALLACE MUHAMMAD on December 18, 1964, stated he was not associated with DAWUD or with his organization to his knowledge.

The Bureau, in its re letter, pointed out that DAWUD had been to several field offices. Among these field offices was Chicago. [REDACTED]

December 21, 1964.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On Sunday night, December 20, 1964 at 11:00 p.m., N.B.C. had a televised news program. Part of the program was a speech by a person who uses the alias "Malcolm X" to an audience in Harlem.

"Malcolm X" used offensive and inflammatory language which implied that members of his group should use "bullets not ballots" and that a "New-man" organization should be formed in Mississippi, Alabama and Harlem.

I would like to recommend that you obtain a tape of this person's abusive speech. In my opinion the speech contains sufficient grounds for an investigation.

Very truly yours,

Characterizations of the Organization of Afro-American Unity (OAAU), Muslim League, Incorporated (MLI) and the Nation of Islam (NOI) are attached hereto and all sources therein have furnished reliable information in the past.

On December 23, 1964, two confidential sources who have both furnished reliable information in the past, furnished the following information:

The OAAU held a public rally from 8:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. on Sunday, December 27, 1964, at the Audubon Ballroom, Broadway and 166th Street, New York City. Approximately 175 persons attended the rally.

The meeting was opened by MLI and OAAU member Sherron Jackson who introduced MLI Secretary James W/X Warden.

Warden spoke briefly on the significance of the recent African tour of OAAU Chairman and MLI leader Malcolm X Little, claiming that the trip made Malcolm X the real leader of black people in America. Warden then introduced Malcolm X as the featured speaker of the evening.

Malcolm spoke on the industrial potential of Africa and the military power of African nations such as the United Arab Republic. He condemned Congo Premier Mobutu Sese Seko and criticized the United States for supporting Mobutu and giving him aid. He also made reference to his remarks at the OAAU public rally last Sunday when he said that what was needed in America to help Negroes was a Mau Mau, a terrorist group that formerly operated in Kenya. Malcolm X explained that when he had talked of the Mau Mau he had referred to them as liberators of their people which is what the Negroes in America need. He did not mean to imply that he favored terrorist activity in the United States by Negroes.

The Chicago Lowdown

By OMAR CLAYTON

The crime rate in Barry Goldwater's Phoenix, Arizona, almost all white, is 34 per cent higher than that of Washington, D. C., 54 per cent Negro Appearing on the Kuppel show Saturday night, Drew Pearson, famed Washington columnist, confirmed the possibilities of a report carried by The Crusader a month ago—namely, that O. W. Wilson might succeed J. Edgar Hoover as head of the FBI.... A political bomb is about to be detonated in New York City. Jackie Robinson is expected to announce his willingness to run for mayor of America's first city and a Republican.

And he has been promised potent organizational support ... A power struggle between Mayor Richard J. Daley and Secretary of State Paul Powell will erupt in the upcoming sessions of the Illinois General Assembly ... A warrant for the arrest of Sarah Vaughn is floating around. It was obtained by her husband who accused the songstress of stealing clothes and furniture from his home ... Ernie Terrell, the hugh Chicagoan, or Eddie Machen may be elected heavyweight champion by the World Boxing Association. The two may be found clouting one another around in a ring in the Chicago Stadium come next May. And the winner will square off with ex-champ Floyd Patterson. As far as WBA is concerned, Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston have created to live ... Mayor Richard J. Daley doesn't want the Democratic national chairmanship, but Cliff Carter, a Texas and a research analyst, does — and he may get it. John Bailey, the current Demo chairman, would then be rewarded with a velvet ambassadorial post... Minnie Minnow is writing the story of his life with the help of a Chicago newspaperman. Egyptian dictator Abdul Nasser has also put in a bid for the services of Malcolm X ... Harry J. Anslinger, who founded and headed the federal narcotics bureau for many years, is the U. S. delegate to a Geneva conference on world narcotics control. Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz is said to be guiding the new political career of Adlai Stevenson III. Early plans call for his election to Congress after a term or two in the Illinois House of Representatives ... Word from New York is that a third school boycott is in the making, and that it is being organized by Rev. Milton A. Galamison, who led the first two ... Physicians attending Cleveland Williams, the heavyweight boxing contender recently shot by a Texas highway patrolman, are optimistic about his recovery and even his chances of fighting again ... Former heavyweight king Joe Louis has entered the labor movement. He is now busy enlisting members in a national union of Negro bartenders and waitresses ... Mississippi newspaper's public enemy list is headed by Drew Pearson and Dick Gregory ... Cub's star Ernie Banks was among the sports luminaries Wednesday at the annual Christmas party hosted by Albert Cardinal Meyer at Goldblatt's State street store ... At the moment, at least, L. W. Abel appears to have the lead over incumbent David J. McDonald for the presidency of the United Steelworkers of America.

Since working on his Ph.D. in Islamic jurisprudence, the younger Muhammad said he realized that many of his father's teachings were wrong such as advocating a segregated state for Negroes and instilling a hatred in his followers against the white man.

Akbar disclosed that he had made up his mind to split with his father as early as last August, but wanted to have a face to face meeting with him before he made it final. He was anxious to ask his father, he said, to deny or confirm certain actions he considered offensive which had disturbed him.

His college education is being financed by a scholarship he received from Nasser's United Arab Republic's government. money he earns as a correspondent from the father's newspaper, Muhammad Speaks and an allowance he receives from Muslim headquarters in Chicago.

His disagreement with his father follows by a few months that of his brother, Wallace, who broke with their 67-year-old father and set up his own cult in Philadelphia. He indicated that his actions came about because of his disillusionment with the Muslim movement's intimidation of their members, the alleged misuse of hundreds of thousands of dollars in funds by officers of the group, and the charge that his father was guilty of immorality and religious deception.

Another defector from the Muslims was Hasan Muhammad, a nephew. There are six brothers and two sisters in the family.

Those still associated with the flock are Emanuel, Nathaniel, Herbert, the publisher of the newspaper, and Elijah Jr., a captain in the Fruits of Islam, the quasi-military arm of the movement charged with internal security and discipline. Elhel is married to Raymond Sharrieff, supreme chief of the FOI, and Lottie Muhammad, a teacher in their Muslim operated school system in Chicago.

Once known as the "angriest Black Muslim of them all," Malcolm X was considered to be the successor to Mr. Muhammad when the latter stepped down from his ruler's throne. But since he was expelled the most likely person to succeed Mr. Muhammad is his son-in-law, Mr. Sharrieff.

It was not known if Akbar Muhammad had returned to Egypt following his conference, or what decision he had arrived at since talking with his father. Although he had promised to contact the Courier, attempts to reach him at Muslim headquarters in Chicago, or at his father's Phoenix, Ariz. home were unsuccessful.

Characterizations of the Muslim Mosque, Incorporated (MMI), Organization of Afro-American Unity (OAAU) and the Nation of Islam (NOI) are attached hereto and all sources therein have furnished reliable information in the past.

On December 18, 1964, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, and is familiar with activity in New York City of the MMI and the OAAU, both of which are led by Malcolm X. Little, furnished the following information:

There has been no talk or mention at recent MMI meetings of any merger between the MMI and any other organization or group. However, at an MMI meeting held at 2395 Eighth Avenue, New York City, on December 16, 1964, MMI Secretary James 67X Warden talked in general terms of a new national Islamic religious organization to be formed in early 1965. This new organization will be strictly an orthodox Islamic religious body with headquarters in New York City and headed by Malcolm X. Little. Warden, during the course of his remarks, mentioned the "Muslim Brotherhood" but made no further comments about it. According to the source, Warden was specifically vague about this new organization indicating that more would be heard of it in the future. Warden did state that Shaykh Ahmad Hassoun, a teacher of Islam, from Sudan who is currently living in New York City with Malcolm X. Little, would figure prominently as a teacher in this new Islamic organization.
